Business Opportunities in Colombia

Every so often global events conspire to create unprecedented international opportunities. An anticipated Free Trade Agreement, the inauguration of a new administration and construction of the El Dorado International Airport in Bogota all point towards a wealth of opportunities for companies interested in the Colombian market. Join us as Lorrie Belovich, Director of Trade Development for Enterprise Florida, discusses how Florida companies can strategically position themselves to take advantage in this $3.75B export market comprised of over 42 million consumers receptive to U.S. products and services.
